

59th Annual Meeting of the Heidegger Circle

May 15-18, 2025
Duquesne University
Pittsburgh, PA

Call for Papers and Panels

The Heidegger Circle invites submissions of papers and panel proposals on the theme:

Through Machination Toward Dwelling: Inceptive Thinking

Paper submissions: Papers should not exceed 4000 words (excluding 150-word abstract, footnotes, and references), with a reading time of 30 minutes. Papers should be prepared for blind review and submitted with a separate cover sheet that includes contact information and affiliation. Graduate students are encouraged to submit; limited funding is available to help defray costs.

Panel proposals: Panels of three presenters, each making a brief presentation (approximately ten minutes) on the panel topic, allowing significant time for discussion. Panel proposals should include:

- (1) the panel title and a 150-word abstract of the panel topic, and
- (2) the titles, a 150-word abstract for each panelist's comments, and their contact information.

Formatting: Submissions should be single-spaced, 12-point Times New Roman, with 1" margins on all sides, footnotes (10-point font), no endnotes, and in a .doc or .docx version (no PDFs).

Deadline: January 15, 2025

Please send inquiries to Douglas Peduti at pedutipgh2025@gmail.com and submissions/proposals with the words "HC 2025 submission" in the Subject line.

Accommodations: The Heidegger Circle has blocked a number of rooms at a group rate of $159.00 + 14% tax until the "Cut Off Date" of Thursday, April 24, 2025, at the Marriott City Center in Pittsburgh, two blocks from Duquesne's campus. To take advantage of the group rate, please use the following link: HCGRP. On-campus dorm rooms are available: single occupancy: $55.00 per night; double occupancy: $45.00 per person per night; link will follow later.